FINISHES

Design Excellence along with Superior Craftsmanship is what separates RangeCraft Range Hoods from all the other brands. RangeCraft offers a wide selection of metals and finishes to make each and every hood unique. Our most popular choices — copper, brass and stainless steel — are standard. However, we can customize variations of these metals to complement your particular design. Decorative color matching is another option... just give us a color sample to match your kitchen design. Create that “Old World” look and feel with hammered copper featuring decorative rivets and bands. Or, mix and match different metals to create a look that is truly unique.
